

iCoreGO™ GoStatements

Encourage customers to move to GoStatements.

Save on costs. Bank on innovation.

DCI's GoStatements are making a statement in the industry. You might already know what's in it for your customers, but do you know what's in it for you?

So Many Ways To Save.

By switching to GoStatements, your institution is guaranteed to save money, time, and valuable resources.

The printing, mailing, and storing of physical statements can be a logistical (and environmental) nightmare. GoStatements eliminates these challenges and offers a more secure option for customers, protecting sensitive information through DCI's proven and advanced technologies.

Provide a more dependable service to your customers while saving money and reducing your environmental impact – ditch the paper and switch to GoStatements today.

Save Money.

Not only will you save 79 cents per paper statement on average by switching to GoStatements, but DCI's tiered savings program will pay as well. Increasing your GoStatements adoption rates = increased savings.

Save Time.

Say goodbye to the tedious process of printing, packaging, posting, and mailing paper statements. GoStatements are generated and sent out in a matter of minutes, allowing you to focus your time on more pressing tasks.

Save Resources.

How much storage space does it take to keep a record of your customers' paper statements? Make the move toward GoStatements and save resources that would otherwise go toward organizing, maintaining, and protecting these copies for years to come.

Stronger Customer Relationships

Give your customers the gift of convenience with access to their bank statements anywhere and anytime. If physical statements are important to them, they're empowered to print their statement from home, making it even easier to keep track of their personal financial records.

Enhanced Security

The encrypted electronic transmission of bank statements reduces the risk of interception or theft. By protecting customers' information through enhanced privacy measures, you're protecting yourself from potential security breaches and legal liabilities.

Support From DCI's Customer Relationship Managers

Our Customer Relationship Managers are here to help you navigate every step of the process. Interested in learning more about internal incentives to provide your customers? Looking for solutions to help increase adoption rates? Don't hesitate to reach out. We're eager to help.
